A Sentimental Favorite

The Daily Portrait™, the flagship product of Milson Road, the family-owned, family-run business of Mark and Margaret Brown, came to fruition while the Brown’s lived in Australia on none other than, Milson Road. The Portraits started as handmade versions created by Mark for nieces and nephews commemorating important milestones. It soon developed into a sentimental favorite with requests from family and friends and a passion of Mark and Margaret Brown’s. When they returned to the states they brought The Daily Portrait with them and opened Milson Road.

The Daily Portrait is a framed, personalized commemorative print celebrating a special occasion or milestone in a “news page” format alongside the day’s headlines – it’s a time capsule of memories captured in a beautiful framed print (18X20-inches). The lead headline of a bar/bat mitzvah Portrait is the news of the child being called to the Torah and becoming a bar/bat mitzvah and the lead story reports the details.

The Daily Portrait can be ordered online through the Milson Road Web site. Mention code WFFAMILY for $20 discount. Milson Road, 487 East Main St., Suite 141, Mt. Kisco, NY 10549-3420 (mailing address). 1-877-464-5766. www.milsonroad.com.

Gift Registries for the Bar/Bat Mitzvah?

Modern technology has impacted the way we do everything including how we “window shop,” comparison shop and purchase items. We can do it all online if we choose and when it comes to purchasing gifts, online registries have become a convenient, smart and acceptable way to ask for and receive gifts.

Deposit a Gift (DAG) is an online cash registry site that differs from the traditional registry; it is based on “saving” for something rather than signing up at specific stores for specific items. The bar/bat mitzvah may want to save for a future trip to Israel or collect donations for a special cause or charity and guests can contribute a monetary gift towards their desire. It may sound unconventional but – at one time – so did sending Evites and using online photo sites for sharing and storing photos. www.depositagift.com. ♦
